No matter how we delude ourselves with the illusions, the truth of life is that any HYIP project may be a scam. But investors should not lose courage. HYIP investments can bring high return. It is enough just to pay timely attention to several basic features of HYIP programs, in due time effecting those which are within investor control. *Choose a marketable, potentially successful HYIP project. Your main task is to select the HYIP project that will tempt a large number of depositors and will pay long term. Select HYIP programs with a good advertising campaign able to tempt plenty of depositors. *The starting of investment. After selecting a few blown HYIPs study the types of projects and the age. Dealing with short-term HYIPs, do not deposit money in them if these projects operate more than 1 month. It is worth putting money in intermediate-term programs at 3-6 months of the HYIPs life-term. Long-term investment programs are still lucrative when they operate more than a year. *When to leave HYIPs? To select an opportune point to say good-bye to the HYIP you should thoroughly observe and monitor investors responses on the HYIP forums, project advertising campaign, any changes in regulations. These and other substituted data can simplify you to determine when to output the initial deposit and interest return and put your hands in pockets. Do not hunt for further interest revenue. If all suggests that the HYIP project will soon scam, immediately output your returns and initial deposit. *Investment sum. Do not put funds just in one investment program. Pick up several investment programs for investing — long-term, intermediate term and fast. Distribute your money better in such relation: 50-70% in long-term HYIPs, 20-40% in the mid-term HYIPs, 5-10% in short term investment programs. *Interest withdrawal. As for short term projects we recommend withdrawing interest promptly after its being accrued, for example, every day; as for the medium term we recommend to draw conclusions immediately upon getting interest. The deposit reinvestment is only valid for long term projects potentially launched for a few years of operating. For fast and medium-term HYIP programs you can apply capitalization, upon condition if you have invested money at the early phase of the investment program operating.
